– Health and Love

The Cintamani Stone, or Chintamani, long sought by treasure hunters, has captured the imagination of man through the ages as tales of this wish-fulfilling jewel have spread around the world. The legends possibly originated in Hindu and Buddhist traditions, although it is thought to be the equivalent of the philosopher's stone in Western alchemy. Others claimed it is the original holy grail or one of several Mani Jewels.

As the story goes, as an instrument of the divine the stone has driven human progress and intended to guide humanity in the right direction.

There comes a time in one's life when everything seems to meet a dead-end and nothing seems to work out. At such depressing times, you need something that not only helps you get back in track but also makes life pleasant and fulfilling. One such stone that is often considered to be sacred and is so rare that very few people have seen it is the Cintamani stone. Some believe that it is a mythical stone whose reference can be found in religious scriptures while others believe in its existence. Irrespective of what people believe the essence and magnitude of the stone cannot be diminished. The fact that references of Cintamani can be found in both Hindu and Buddhist literature points towards the fact that it is a gemstone that has been highly valued and respected.

The most common reference about Cintamani is that it is a gift to Earth from the skies. In fact, evidence proves that the Cintamani stone came from the Sirius star system some millions of years ago. It happened during a Galactic superwave when a planet that was orbiting Sirius A exploded and flew in all directions. Some of these fragments reached Earth after traveling through interstellar space. The stone is so rare that throughout history and mythology only a handful of people have been known to possess it. Great men, gods, and goddesses have adorned themselves with the Cintamani, elevating the mythical nature of the stone.

Many believe that everything related to Cintamani is an only legend and there is no concrete fact to prove the existence of the stone. However, descriptions of Cintamani show its similarity to other well-known gemstones such as moldavite. Cintamani is believed to be a green-colored stone that fell from the skies. Moldavite too is a similar-colored stone that was formed as a result of meteoric impacts. Since there wasn't any understanding about meteors in ancient times, meteoric impacts were probably viewed as mystical events. This could be the case with Cintamani and its constant relation with mysticism.

Cintamani (Chintamani) is the stone with the highest vibration of all stones known. It awakens you to your mission, strengthens your inner guidance and contact with your higher self, and dissolves implants and outdated belief systems.

14d. Hanuman chalisa (Poem) – safe health – and poverty in a life reduced – Ego sustained

Hanuman Chalisa is a set of 40 poetic verses dedicated to the devotee of Lord Rama, Hanuman. It was composed by Tulsidas while he was imprisoned by Mughal emperor Aurangzeb. When Aurangzeb challenged Tulsidas to show the lord to him, he replied that Rama could only be seen with true devotion. This angered the emperor and he put the poet behind bars. It is popularly believed that an army of monkeys menaced Delhi when Tulsidas completed his ode and recited the Chalisa. It is also a common belief among the Hindus that reading Hanuman Chalisa can reap several benefits. A few recitals of the Chalisa to Hanuman helps one memorise it easily.

Hanuman Chalisa can be read by anybody. Hanuman Chalisa can be read in the morning after taking a bath. Those reading after sunset should wash their hands, feet and face beforehand.

For removal of bad karma- first opening verse

Wisdom and strength – second opening verse , Attainment of divine knowledge – 1ST verse , Removal of bad company and habits – 3rd verse, Cultivation of devotion – verses 7 and 8, Protection from poisons and snake bites – 11th verse , Removes misunderstanding between sons and daughters – 12th verse, To gain fame – 13th – 15th verse , Recovery of lost status, promotion in jobs- 16th -17th verse , Remove obstacles; accomplish difficult tasks – 20th verse , Protection from adverse planetary influences – 22nd verse , Protection from black magic and evil spirits – 24th verse, To achieve good health -25th verse, Liberation from crisis – 26th verse, Fulfillment of desires – 27th – 28th verses, Victory over enemies – 30th verse, Occult powers and wealth – 31st verse, To follow ethics and have a fulfilling life – 32nd -35th verses, For mental peace – 36th verse, For grace of Lord Hanuman – 37th verse

Here are some spiritual benefits of the reciting the Hanuman Chalisa:

It is believed among Hindus that reciting Hanuman Chalisa calls upon Hanuman's involvement in critical problems and helps ward off evil spirits and negative energy. Recital of the Hanuman Chalisa helps reduce the effects of Sade Sati and helps those suffering due to Saturn if they read Hanuman Chalisa on Saturday for peace and prosperity. Hanuman Chalisa can help those troubled with nightmares if they place the Chalisa under their pillow before sleeping. More than anything, dedicated recitals of Hanuman Chalisa can one overcome the trauma of bad experiences. Reading Hanuman Chalisa is beneficial if one wants to get rid of the karmic effects of the bad deeds done in the past. Those who read Hanuman Chalisa with utmost dedication invite the divine protection of Lord Hanuman who removes obstacles in our endeavours. Those suffering from stress should read Hanuman Chalisa to feel relaxed and in control of life. It is believed that Lord Hanuman can prevent accidents and ensure a successful trip, which is why many people have idols of Hanuman in their cars. For those seeking enlightenment, reading Hanuman Chalisa can help gain wisdom and spiritual knowledge. Reciting Hanuman Chalisa helps people who have been distracted by a bad company. It helps in the reformation of those fallen prey to objectionable habits. It eliminates disagreements and promotes unanimity and contentment. Reciting Hanuman Chalisa promotes harmony and eliminates unnecessary arguments by making one aware.

- F2. A Television Viewer for Positive Energy
- F3. A Camphor burning in pooja – in a home – freshens home – in good Energy – in a Positive Energy

F4. Camphor Aroma – Friction of Camphor Oil Energy – Good for Health and Positive Energy

Sometimes there is a persistent feeling of stress, anxiety and negativity inside us and in our environment and these negative energies can influence and pervade throughout the body and the environment you live in. The fumes generated by camphor significantly releases all the blocks accumulated within us and in our environment by banishing timidity, fearfulness and negative energies and it enhances the flow of positive peaceful energies.

There are various techniques to manifest peaceful healing energies of camphor that are empowered to remove all the negative energies, here goes the list of how to use Camphor and what kind of benefits can be garnered at the same time – “Tealight Candle Diffusers” – Diffuser is just what you need to enlighten your atmosphere with grace, calm and serenity. You can use high quality Camphor essential oil or you can also put 2 to 3 pieces of Camphor on top of it and let the candle vaporize it. Fume, scent or mist that comes out from the diffuser, diffuses all over the place. This technique purifies the air to bring tranquility and peace in your environment and drives away all negative energies. Diffusers can be your own personal meditation blend. The fragrance released from the diffuser can help improve concentration and enhance the experience by grounding you and promoting a sense of calmness and propelling one to become receptive to enlightenment.

“Burning Camphor” – Do not get influenced by negative energies around you, burn camphor during your morning rituals to inhale the medicinal properties like anti-fungal and antibacterial that spreads out all in the air and casts off any bacteria or negative energies present within you or in the environment. Burning camphor makes it unsuitable for the lower vibrational entities to survive & drives them away. Burning Camphor can also bring prosperity and abundance of wealth to your family. It helps in releasing the blocks and thus helps in financial abundance. To cleanse your aura, you can pass a camphor piece around your body from top to bottom & then burn that piece.

“Camphor Essential Oil” - Camphor oil is the oil extracted from the wood of camphor trees and processed by steam distillation. The essence of Camphor oil can be used as a shield to protect your aura from coming under any bad influence of negative energies. Mixing few drops of camphor oil or crushed pieces of camphor in bathing water will suck and cleanse all the negative energy present in your aura. Camphor essential oil can also be used during Chakra balancing meditation. You can take a very small portion of the oil in your ring finger and apply it in your third-eye chakra (between your eye-brows) in a circular form to experience the deep reflection of mindfulness and a heightened spiritual sense of awareness within your mind.

- F5. In Food Give – Postive Energy Leaves of Tulsi
- F6. Radiance of Good Energy – Krypton and Lead
- F7. Sun God Radiance chain – A Positive Energy
- F8. Tortoise placed in Home – A Positive Energy

In feng shui practice, the tortoise is one of the four celestial animals, or guardians, that correspond to the four compass directions. The black tortoise represents North; the green dragon is the guardian of the East; the red phoenix, the guardian of the South; and the white tiger, the guardian of the West. These four animals are considered the guardians of good feng shui energy, and the roots of their symbolism and use go back deep into the beginnings of feng shui. Placed in the right position, the celestial animals are said to channel and enhance energy, while misplaced animals can hinder proper energy flow.

There are several feng shui rules, or guidelines for placing a tortoise as a feng shui cure in your home, your garden, or your office.

Feng shui expert Lillian Too enumerates additional uses for the feng shui tortoise symbol: Positioning a tortoise close to an artificial waterfall or fish tank will magnify the power of the tortoise.

Placing the tortoise near the head of your bed will remove anxieties and can help with insomnia. It is considered bad feng shui to place a tortoise in the kitchen or bathroom. tortise feng shui Illustration: © The Spruce, 2018

Types of Feng Shui Turtles

When choosing a feng shui tortoise, you can select among different materials, different designs engraved on the back of the turtle, and different symbols and objects included with the turtle. For example, some tortoises figurines are depicted with feng shui coins to attract more money and to improve health and family life, etc. Then there is the dragon turtle feng shui cure—a mystical combination of the energies of the turtle with the energies of the dragon.

Online retailers and shops specializing in feng shui products offer dozens of different tortoises in various colors and materials, each intended to enhance a certain feng shui goal. For example, you might choose a tortoise made from hematite for its symbolic value in combatting terminal illness, or one made from rose quartz for its legendary value at improving love relationships.

The tortoise is a celestial feng shui symbol that represents stability and protection against bad fortune. For feng shui practitioners, the tortoise offers many uses when chosen carefully, used correctly, and treated with respect.

- F9. Ganga water radiance stored in a glass of water – Energy on God – in Kitchen – good energy – Positive Energy – in Utensils of Positive Energy

Ganges water works well for spiritual upliftment as well. The holy water is known to purify every place wherever it is sprinkled. It drives away all the negative energies and brings forth the positive energy that enlivens up the place.

In Indian mythology, the role of River Ganges is very well presented. Even today, the sacred river is worshipped and considered as Mother Goddess; a very important part of Hindu religion. It is associated with purity, sanctity and good will.

The different parts of the Tulsi are believed to be the abode of various deities and sacred texts of Sanatana Dharma. Moreover, Tulsi is believed to be a physical incarnation of Goddess Lakshmi on Earth.

Hindus regard the Tulsi plant as the holiest of all. Most of the Hindu households have a Tulsi plant, and people worship it every day after taking a bath. Tulsi, also known as Vrinda, is a Goddess and a consort of Shri Vishnu. Therefore, she is always associated with festivals related to the various avatars of Vishnu, the one who sustains lives on this planet. According to some beliefs, Tulsi is a manifestation of Goddess Lakshmi on earth.

Why do people worship Tulsi?

There are a variety of reasons associated with the worship of the Tulsi plant. The Tulsi or the Vrinda is believed to be the gateway to heaven or Vaikuntha, the abode of Lord Vishnu. And therefore, she helps devotees in getting closer to their ultimate goal, Moksha (liberation from the vicious cycles of birth, death and rebirth).

The different parts of the Tulsi are believed to be the abode of various deities and sacred texts of Sanatana Dharma. Moreover, since she is believed to be a physical incarnation of the Goddess Lakshmi, she is worshipped every day for peace and prosperity.

Moreover, the sacred plant helps people eliminate Vastu Dosha, if any. In ancient households, a Tulsi plant would also find a special place for worship. People would do parikrama (circumambulate) to pay their respects to the Goddess. The presence of Tulsi helps in warding off evil and negativity.

And last but not least, the Tulsi plant has healing powers. The plant has medicinal properties, and therefore, is it used to fight common cold, cough and other diseases. Moreover, it helps in boosting the immune system.

Luck By Your Side

Luck by your side,
Good things to come allright,
Good things to make you win,
Good things to make you swing.

Bad Luck may come your way,
Bad luck to make you sway.
Good luck for your good deeds,
Bad luck are your weeds.

If the whole life is your lucky charm,
Bad luck won't do any harm.
Good luck may be your fluke,
But make it count, will look good.

Bad luck may get you down,
But don't make it to frown,

And don't rely on luck, its not a stability,
Life's probability is only your ability.

Luck by your side,
Only your deeds will make you ride !

Strong & Weak

You are very strong,
To walk all along,
Strong for your deepest fears,
Strong to wipe your tears.
We do fall and become weak,
But this is a wakeup call, an alarm that beeps,
Strength and gut is for you to keep.
Rise along and be so strong,
Its all in the mind, if nothing goes wrong.
Strong is for brave hearts,
Weakness out of your charts.
You are very strong,
Nothing comes by your way, sing along.

Heaven (Jannat)

The Land is beautiful and serenely ,
It's a pride to own that, not caring enmity,
The fight has got above normality,
Blood shed and sacrifices thinking its heavenly.

Fighting blood for blood is an animal instinct,
Living peacefully and brotherly has suddenly distinct.

The dead goes to God ,angrily wanting justice,
God says, you perished, that is the biggest injustice.

Killing people is the biggest sin of mankind,
The world then shall be miserable, shall be the birthplace of your find.

This is such a shame when a land is above human,
The Land is mine ,happily inhuman.

Lost life , but the land is mine,
Did crime and its perfectly fine ?!

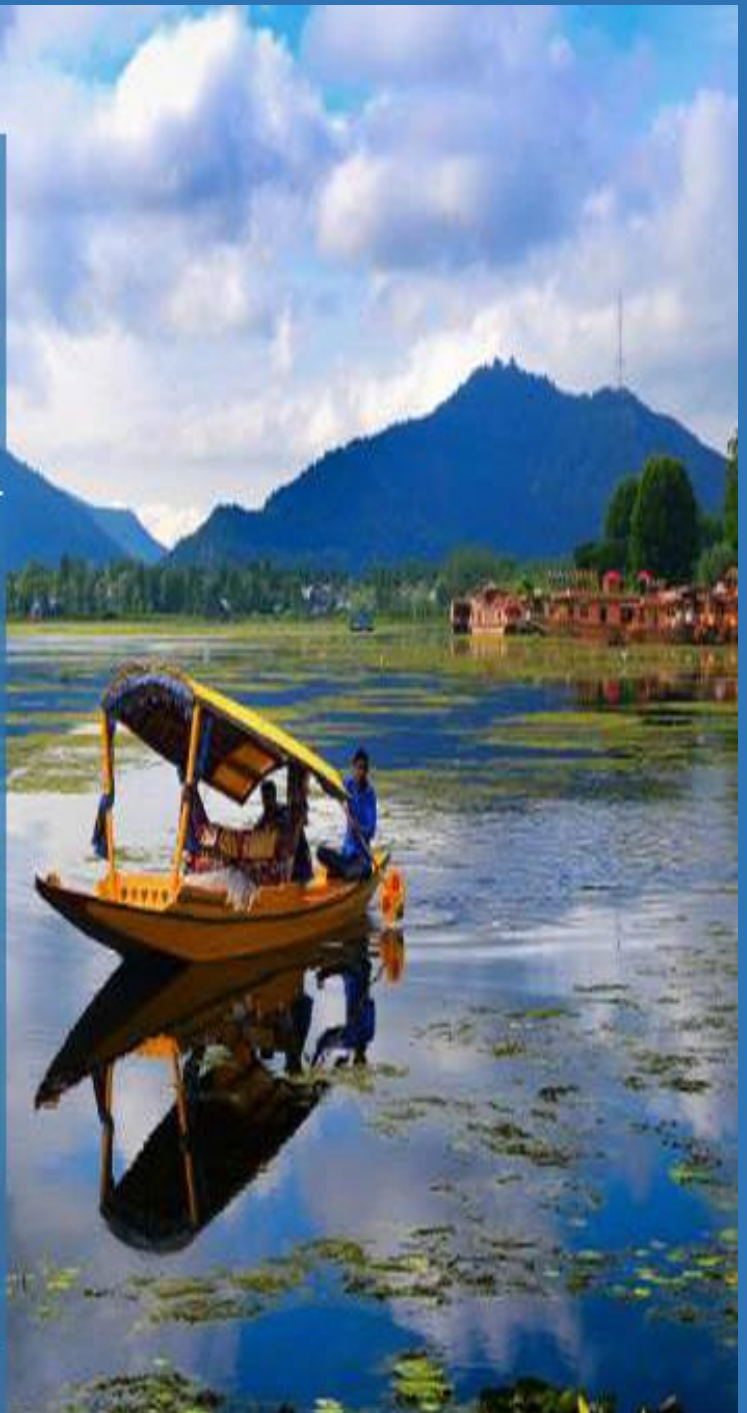

God created humans to live in land,
And not lands to die for and reprimand.

A beautiful soul and not the Land is precious,
The matter of pride has made us malicious.

Brotherhood and unity has a touch in democracy,
You are one and not just racy.

The Land is beautiful and serenely ,
Stop sacrifices , don't make your people lonely,
When there is nothing left, its certainly not heavenly.

Winning and Loosing

We win, looks so sweet,
We loose and things gets out of feet.

Winning is a matter of confidence,
Loosing turns down all your sense.

Winning for your hard work takes you to fame,
Loosing needs some work, looks so lame.

But in the end we either loose or win,
Life is such a thing, it always spin.

So if you think, you are born to win,
Take loosing as just a dream,
Cause this is life ,must be your silent scream.

War and Peace

War can destroy you by far,
Can make your life miserable at par.

War you use to destroy enmity,
Countries faces extreme tragedy.

War as a matter of pride and revenge,
Martyrs fall out, Looks so strange.

War happens when all humanity lost,
Sadness, grief and misery is the cost.

Can war win anything for you?
When people lost and life becomes blue.

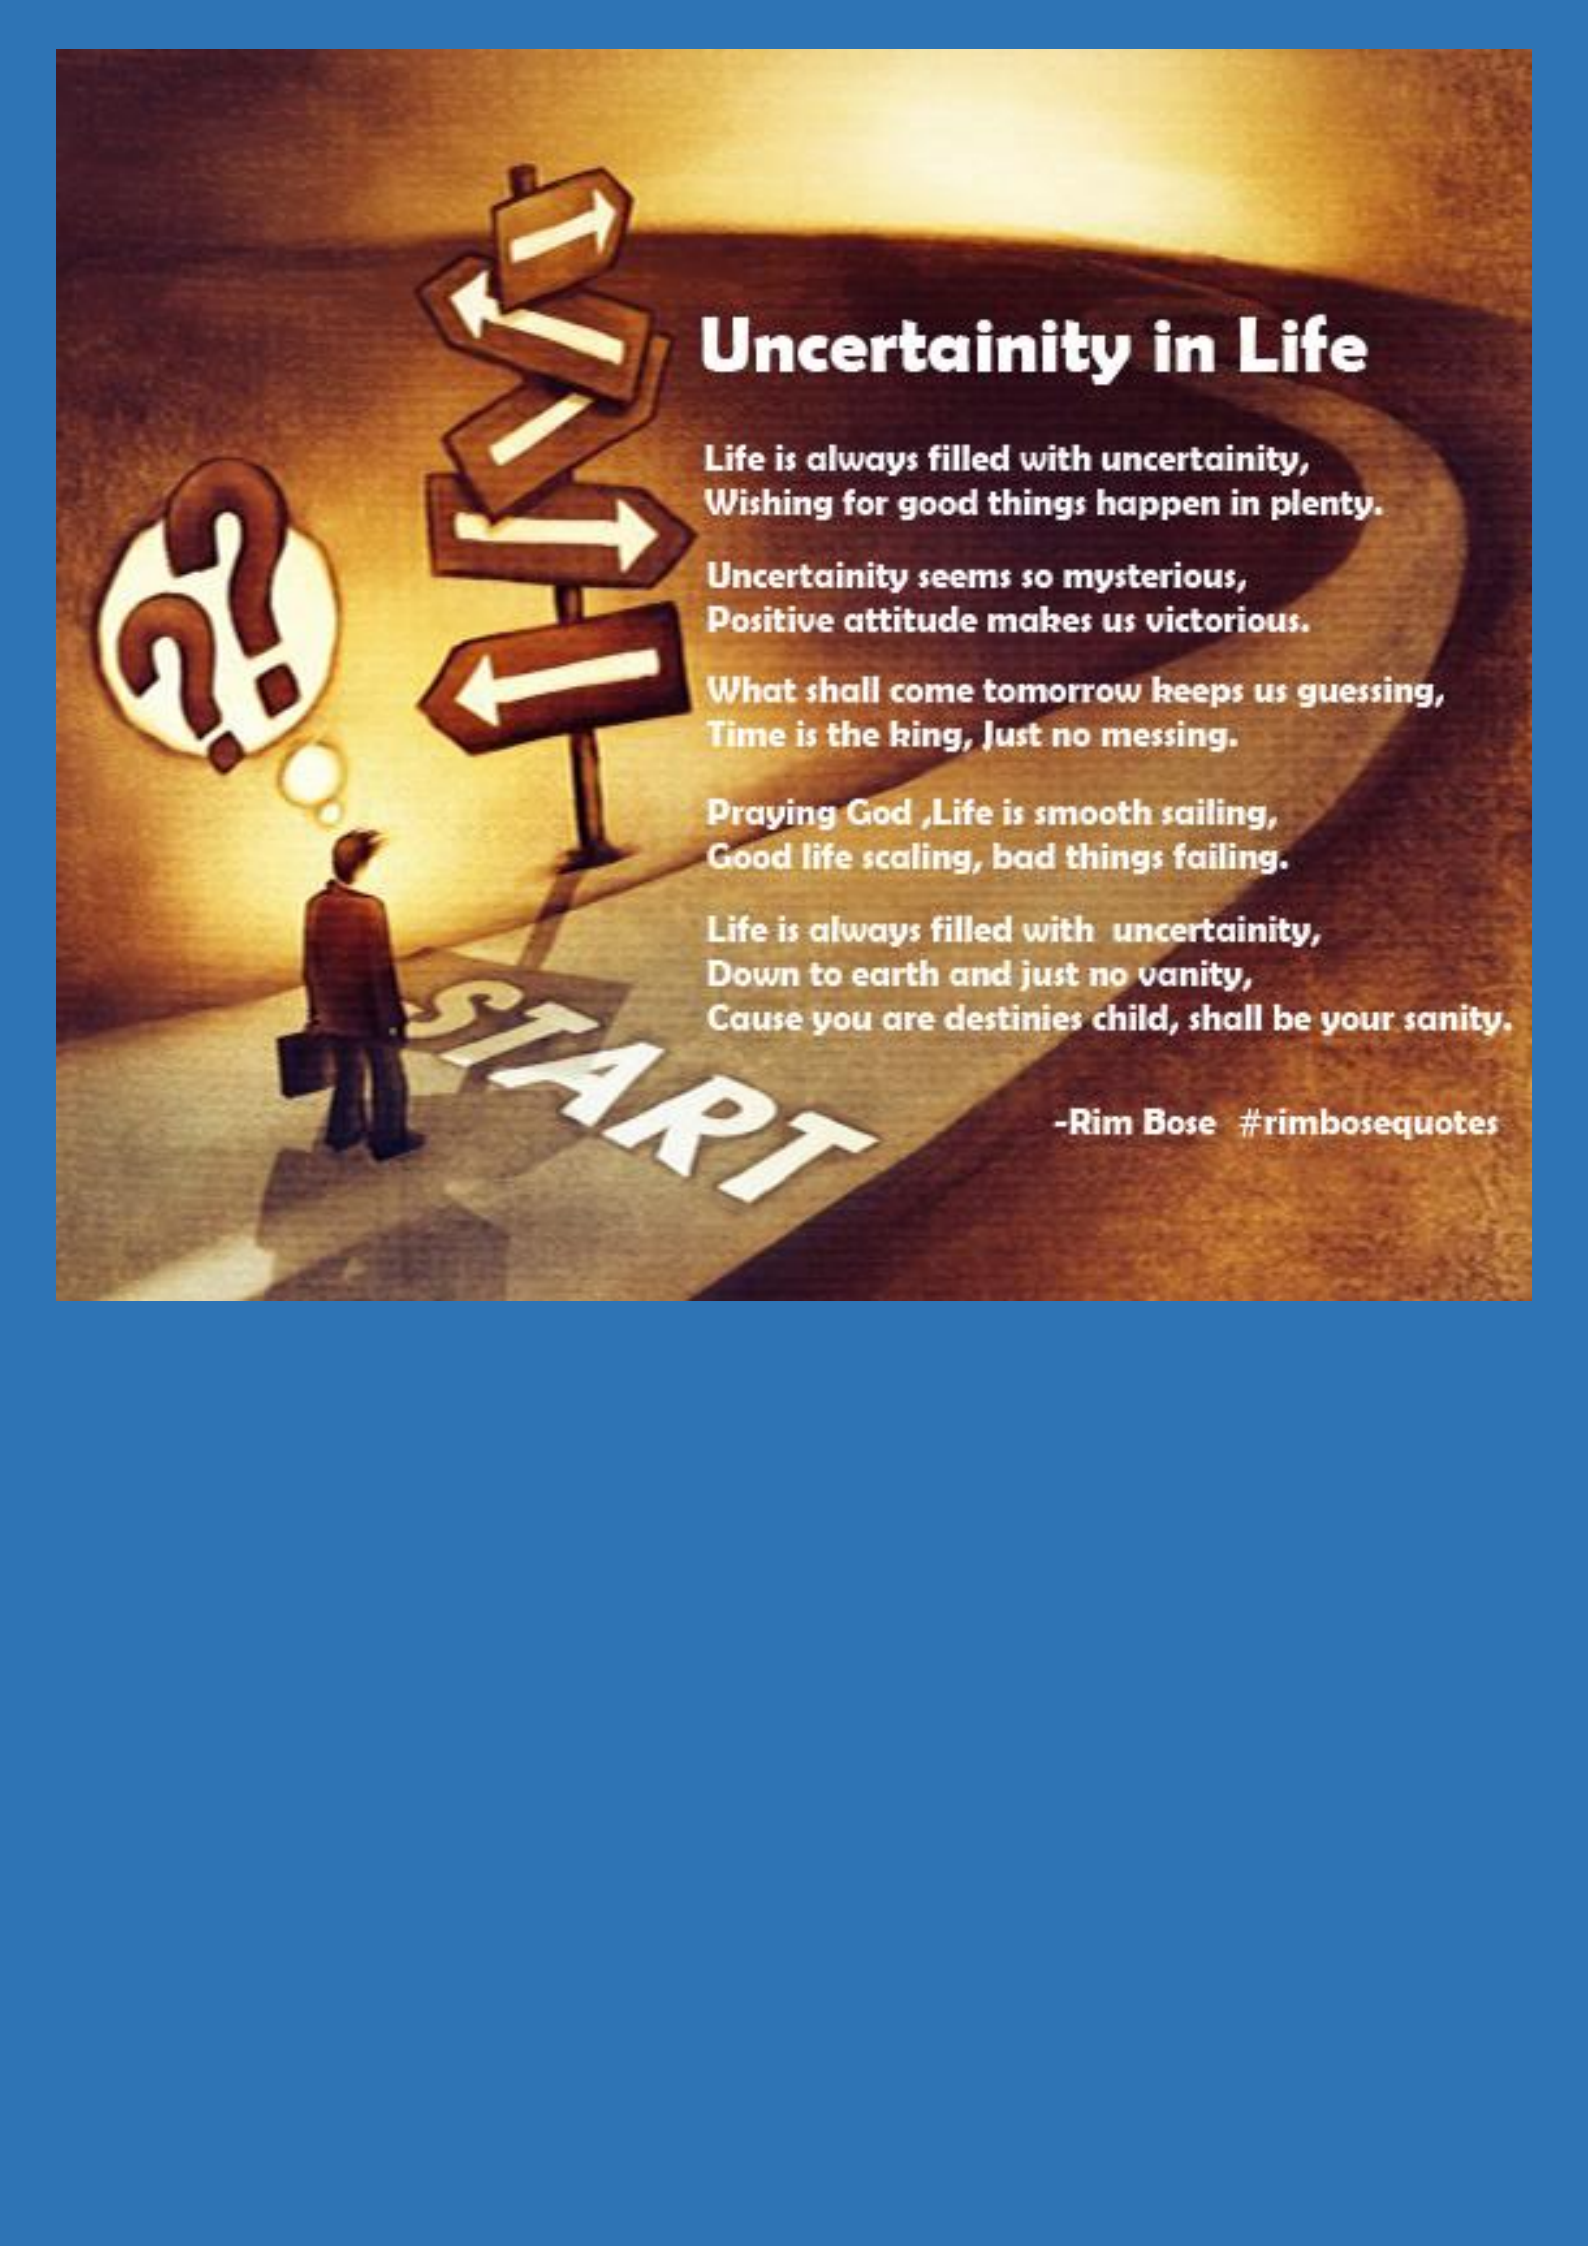

Give peace a chance to live,
Stop killing life or your heart will be in miff.

War and peace are extreme opposites,
Peace and not war is the heartiest politics.

Give peace a miss and Life dismissed,
War doesn't go far, people get charred.

So not war but give peace a chance,
Life will be good when your eyes glance,
Living peacefully with a heartfelt thanks.

An illustration of a man in a brown suit and hat standing at the beginning of a winding path. The word 'START' is written on the ground in large white letters. To his right is a wooden signpost with five arrows pointing in different directions. Above him is a large thought bubble containing two question marks. The scene is lit with a warm, golden light from the top right.

Uncertainty in Life

Life is always filled with uncertainty,
Wishing for good things happen in plenty.

Uncertainty seems so mysterious,
Positive attitude makes us victorious.

What shall come tomorrow keeps us guessing,
Time is the king, Just no messing.

Praying God ,Life is smooth sailing,
Good life scaling, bad things failing.

Life is always filled with uncertainty,
Down to earth and just no vanity,
Cause you are destinies child, shall be your sanity.

God is One

Religions are of many facets,
Some new and some back to oldest traces.

Gods religions are of various diversities,
Men fighting in God's name bringing adversities.

Oppression and Racism took God to shame,
The Great says ,we are all one and same.

We all have our God's of simple faith,
Respecting each others religiously, God is Great.

Love and Peace is another name of religion,
Helping each others makes us one in a billion.

So stop fighting in the name of religion,
Make peace your home and not wars in oblivion.

Love Divine

Love is like a whiskey or wine,
For men and women ,its love divine.

Say you love me, you are mine,
You are always my sunshine,
You make me feel so fine.

There are seven ages of sign,
But as it ages ,its like a sweet wine.

Love is music ,makes heart sublime,
So Don't break any ones heart,
It's the biggest crime.

No Money

I just don't have that much money,
It all seems up to be very funny.

Money can buy happiness and comfort,
Emptiness seems to my strongest build fort.

No money and I am not crying,
Cause Empty handedly we all are dying.

The World created money power to live a life,
Poor robbers want it with hands grabbing knife.

Money is the only reason for all sorts of crime,
Killing people for money is the trend of our times.

No money and I am not so greedy,
Satisfied with things that are needy.

No money and I am in peace,
Rich peoples peace gives a miss.

I just don't have that much money,
But I have a big heart, bright and sunny,
That sings, Don't worry Be happy.
